

We believe...maybe you do too?

We seem to live in a world that does a lot of telling and not a lot of deep listening. TV, radio, podcasts, streaming, email, text messages, social media of every type, size, and platform all aim at speaking our voice to the universe and to the world, which is all very good. Yet I wonder if we might be able to collect and focus some of those wonderful and holy things and put them to print? On the 5th Sunday of Easter, May 15th, we heard Phillip say to Jesus, "show us, that will be enough..." and I thought to myself, maybe that is what we need!

We as a community and as a Church have spoken our belief and understanding about God to the world since the first "creed" was assembled by the early Church. Variations, understandings, wars, beheadings, and crownings have happened over these "creeds", and yet if we are honest with each other, while we all say the same words, we often understand those words in totally different ways. Maybe that is why they are called in the early Church-the symbol of faith-because they point to understandings that far outweigh the words themselves.

To that end, I am inviting you to make the Gospel living and active in our world today. I am inviting you to become part of the first communally authored book. Over this month and the remaining days of June until Sunday June 18th, I am inviting you to put into print some of the vast, wonderful and holy thoughts you have about what you believe about God. You see my friends, there is no right or wrong, your belief is your understanding, your lived experience. Some may agree, others may not. Some may find inspiration, others may find challenge. All of it is holy. This book, no matter if we publish it as an e-book or as a print book, will serve to inspire thought and prayer and conversation. The contributing authors will be listed all in one location in the book. The sayings will stand on their own. On Sunday June 18th I invite you to email your understandings to me BishopMartyShanahan@gmail.com, or send them in the mail to "Spirit of Hope Catholic Community 2035 Charlton Road, Sunfish Lake, MN 55118. Stay strong, love deeply, live passionately, speak with love, and listen with the heart. I can't wait to see this collection of holiness!

Faithfully,
Bishop Marty

BRING A FRIEND!

Please save the travel size personal care items that you pick up while on vacation. There are many organizations that can use them. We will rotate donating them to Neighbors, Joseph's Coat and Walking with a Purpose. Thank you!

Remember our hungry Neighbors this spring & summer. Food can be dropped off in the containers at either door.

+++ Emergency Cancellations +++

If there is any reason to cancel any event, Spirit of Hope will be listed on KARE TV or the WCCO radio closing announcements.
